

CLOSE TO LIFE

All things are broken
But you're from a world that's whole
Crowns have been stolen

You speak of a kingdom
A kingdom not from this world
You speak of a father
You speak of a home

And I never ever felt so close to life
As right here when I look into your eyes
And every word you say is giving light
Yeah, You got words of eternal life

So many closed doors
But your heart is open wide
I know my darkness
But you are so bright, so bright

So where else should I go
There's no one else I know
Who could satisfy my soul
Like you, like you
